

I feel strongly that if this is my phone number, which I pay for, and if I want to share that number, that should be my prerogative. However, I chose to be on the DO NOT CALL LIST. Further, I only use a cell phone, so every call in from a telemarketer would cost me money. I don't think that is fair to me that it will cost me money to get calls from people soliciting me.